

CONFLICTS MANAGEMENT AND CONFLICT RESOLUTION METHODS IN ORGANIZATIONS

Ivaylo B. Ivanov¹

Abstract

In recent years there has been a kind of social boom in the conflict at the individual, interpersonal, group and intergroup level, at local, national, regional and global levels. The urgency of the problem of conflict management in organizations is confirmed by the fact that in the last twenty years it has come to the fore in science. This article is another attempt to build a bridge between the achievements of modern world science and practice for management and resolution of social conflicts in organizations and Bulgarian public practice.

Key words: conflicts; management; resolution; methods

JEL: D74, J5, M12

¹ Assistant professor Ivaylo B. Ivanov, PhD, Industrial business department, University of National and World Economy, Sofia, Bulgaria, i.ivaylo@unwe.bg